Shapes are generally our first encounter with math. Geometry skills are learned from an early age, and readers build upon those first geometry lessons with topics like describing objects using the names of shapes, identifying both two-dimensional and three-dimensional shapes, and composing shapes. Readers are able to explore these essential concepts independently through easy-to-follow text and colorful images of both new and familiar shapes. Students learn to use the names of shapes to describe the relative position of an object in an accessible context. This book reflects standard K.G.A.1 of the Common Core State Standards for Mathematics. This book should be paired with "Where Is It?" (9781477719374) from the InfoMax Math Readers Program to provide the alternative point of view on the same topic. Spud really wants to help, but he's up to his old tricks! Pictographs and word labels are included in each to-find list. Can you find who's in these pages, is a book of short stories, filled with fun and excitement. A roller coaster ride that peels at your insight. Cheeky Monkey is playing hide-and-seek in the jungle. Can you find him? There are lots of other fun things to find, too, plus numbers and colors to learn. With wipe-clean pages and a pen, children can have look-and-find fun again and again. Every day countless numbers of believers experience crisis that tests their faith. Once thrust into the storm, the sifting begins, and we must make a choice to stand on truth. To complicate the matter, we may respond in sin and continue in error by pointing the blame on others. After our faith falters through a trial, we may abandon it and suffer the stigma of what the Apostle Paul called, “a shipwrecked faith.” Not understanding why this happens to loyal believers, who once felt so close to God, we turn away from our faith. Like spiritual nomads, we leave the congregation, fleeing for refuge in a desert of our own making. What we may not comprehend, or appreciate is that God’s grace sustains us during our season of separation. This book helps the reader to regain stability during a stretch in the desert and see it as an opportunity for refining and redefining our faith. Alternatively, faith failure occurs when a believer naively misplaces faith to truth in a system of religious works, or persons and suffers when they do not uphold the teachings of Jesus. When we walk from false religious teachings, associates label us as failures and reject us. Broken hearted and disillusioned by our situation, we give up our religion and turn our back on everything we once believed in. We may spend years hiding in the desert making little progress in our faith, until we realize that we are spiritually thirsty. We long for God’s love and wish someone would help us find the way to restore our faith. Our cry is like the title of this book, “Help Me! I’m a Religious Wreck and You Can Find Me in the Desert” and here it is with care, placed into your hands, from one who understands the cry. A fun adventure, engaging rhythm and rhyme, and an unlikely culprit keep children giggling all the way to the end of the story, where a delightful discovery is made. A little girl looks in each room of her house and even outside for her dog, Sadie Robot has lost his arm -- can you help him find a new one? Step into a charming mechanical world invented by a striking new picture book artist. One morning, a robot wakes up to find he is missing an arm. He and his robo buddy search inside and outside the house, through a garden, an amusement park, a library and even a candy shop, but it's nowhere to be found. Where can the arm be, and what might make a suitable replacement? A lollipop? A fish bone? How about a fork? Can You Find My Robot's Arm? humorously invites children to explore the beautiful and intricate hand-cut images of Chihiro Takeuchi. “I eagerly commend this series.” —R. Albert Mohler Jr., President, The Southern Baptist Theological Seminary Many new believers have questions about what it means to live as a Christian in the context of a local church, and pastors are looking for resources to pass along to their congregations to help them think biblically about the Christian life. Church Questions is a series by 9Marks that seeks to provide Christians with sound and accessible biblical teaching by answering common questions about church life. Each booklet offers biblical answers and practical applications with the goal of nurturing healthy church practice and commitment. Discipleship is an important part of the Christian life. As we follow Jesus, we learn the importance of pointing unbelievers to Jesus and helping believers grow in their relationship with him. But how do you know where to start? In this addition to the Church Questions series, Garrett Kell explores the Bible’s teaching on discipleship and how that plays out practically in the context of the local church. A specialist in Stress Illness reveals how to identify and remedy this potentially serious health issue that too often goes undiagnosed. Every year, millions of people seek medical care for symptoms that diagnostic tests are unable to explain. Sent away frustrated, or thinking it's "all in their heads," the truth is that many of these people are ill because of hidden stresses. Dr. David Clarke has done pioneering work with thousands of these patients, often sent to him as a last resort. In They Can't Find Anything Wrong, he offers real solutions to put a stop to the stress illness epidemic. Dr. Clarke describes the major types of stress and explains steps for treatment with a range of effective techniques. Case histories that read like medical mysteries illustrate the concepts and make them easy to apply. Now, let me tell you the truth about love. It can only be found where MY MAN is found. It can never be lost or taken; when one is willing to give up everything so another may live; then you have love. This is a story about such a love, but Chunky and Fatty never knew they were “soul mates” until one day they realized they had to look no more, I found you. The story is about how a father and doctor implanted in the pea brain of his son the idea that a man could bear children and not only that, elephants. So Fatty’s imagination took over from there. When Chunky got depressed, Fatty would make her laugh and pull her out of her depression. Because in your mind anything can be done and Fatty taught this to Chunky. Throughout their marriage it was never a question of can we do this; but let’s go! CAN YOU FIND ME; MY MAN knows. Can you find the hidden critters in these photographs?
